Summary of Qualifications

I am experienced PPIC with demonstrated history in apparel industry. Working closely to follow up with customer and production regarding sampling production and bulk delivery to make sure it went smooth. My personal strength are learner, ideation maximizer, strategic and responsibility.

I like to learning something new and always attracting by process of doing something new rather than the results. I have a passion to explore more and more about something new and collecting any information about that. I am also a responsible person because for me any kind of task that given to me must be finished no matter how difficult or simple that task. I sincerely believe that my knowledge, abilities, creativities, and independent attitude would be valuable assets to help me build a career in my life.
